The EuroStoxx continued to surge higher yesterday. The market closed on the highs of the day heading into the close. The 2950-56 area is an important resistance level for the market. A break through here then targets the 3000 handle and the 3044 highs made in January 2010. Aftermarket yesterday saw Apple also report strong earnings. A close back below the 2912-16 level may serve to unnerve longs and thus must be the first target for bears heading into the rest of the week.
